A Winter Storm Hits Boston, Massachusetts Today!

BRUCE HENRY · SUNDAY, JANUARY 20, 2019

The storm started yesterday. First came snow and still snowing, but later changing to rain today. For most of New England snow, rain, sleet, slush, freezing rain, slick roads, black ice and clearing up maybe tomorrow.

Here is a tip:

1. stay home today or if you are going anywhere today, be very careful. Bring with you, a shovel, rocksalt, sand, icemelt, ice scraper, de-icer and anti-freeze.
2. Dress warm: wear a layers of extra winter clothes, such as thermal outfits, gloves, an extra pair of gloves, scarf, an spare scarf, earmuffs, extra pair of earmuffs or earwarmers, a heavy waterproof hooded wintercoat or an overcoat, handkerchief, kleenex tissue, thermal socks, winter boots, a ski hat, an extra ski hat, elbow pads, knee pads, back brace and a helmet.
3. If you are staying home today, stay warm, drink plenty of fluid to stay hydrated.
4. Stay stocked up on plenty of food and turn and keep your freezer and refrigerator thermostat up just in of power failure. Do this prior to the storm.
5. Stockup on plenty of important supplies and keep them stocked up, such as medications, flashlight or battery powered lantern, mobile phone, important phone numbers, important documents for emergency contacts and other emergencies.
6. Keep plenty of water or water supplies stocked up and store in the refrigerator and keep batteries and extra batteries stocked up and restored in a safe place and non perishable foods stocked up in the kitchen cabinets.
7. Keep in mind at all times for this procedure and event.
8. Make a list of these things for these procedures and events and store them in a safe place to have them in handy for the future reference.

9. If you are driving, move your vehicle prior to snowplowing services and remove your vehicle afterwards. (Back to your parking spot).
